

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Maid I Love.
The maid I love has violet eyes,
And rose-leaf lips of red;
She wears the moonshine round her neck,
The sunshine round her head;
And she is rich in every grace,
And poor in every need;
And crowned kings might envy me
The splendor of her smile.

She walks the earth with such a grace,
The lilies turn to look;
And waves rise up to catch a glance
And stir the quiet brook;
Nor ever will they rest again,
But chatter as they flow,
And babble of her crimson lips,
And of her breast of snow.

—Poems by Henry Lynden Flash.

Ellis—Nalle.

A Washington wedding in which many Richmond friends and relatives were interested was celebrated at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund P. Nalle, No. 1213 Nineteenth Street, Northwest, when their daughter, Sadie Parrish, became the bride of Lieutenant Edward Beverly Ellis, of the Fourteenth Cavalry, United States Army.

The Rev. Herbert Scott Smith, rector of St. Margaret's Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. Elaborate house decorations were in palms, ferns and smiling, with yellow everywhere predominating.

The ribbons were carried by Lieutenants James Goethe, Matt. C. Bristol, Harry S. Berry and L. L. Dietrich, of the Thirteenth Cavalry, in full dress uniform. Lieutenant-Commander Newton Alexander McCully, United States Navy, was best man to Lieutenant Ellis.

The bride was given away by her father. She was beautifully gowned in imported crepe de chine, trimmed with rose point lace. Her veil was fastened with diamonds, and her flowers were white gladioli. The matron of honor, Mrs. Cary Nalle, was in pale yellow, and had a bouquet of pale yellow roses.

The bridesmaids were Misses Cornelia Summerville, Norma Cave, Susie and Lucy Robertson. They wore white tulle with freshings of yellow and carried yellow bouquets.

Miss Katherine Hoge, of Staunton, in white chiffon and lace, received the guests as they assembled.

At the reception an orchestra played among the numbers of an appropriate program. Patriotic and martial songs were sung, and the guests passed into the dining room, where were presented with pretty presents in the shape of tiny silk American flags.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Ellis will make their future home at 1414 1/2 Wall, Washington, where a completely furnished home is being kept for the bride and groom. Among the guests were:

Mrs. Lella Ellis, of New Orleans, and Mrs. McBurney, mother and sister of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Rochester, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hobbins, of Staunton, Va.; Miss Kath. erine Hoge, of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Slaughter, Miss Mary Nalle, and Miss Dora Hoge, of Virginia; Miss Cornelia Summerville, of Colorado, and Arthur and Rice Hoge, of Virginia.

Byers—Hallowell.

A wedding of much interest to Virginians took place Wednesday evening in Goldsboro, N. C., when Miss Hattie G. Hallowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hallowell, became the bride of Mr. Howard S. Byers, of Harrisonburg, Va.

The Rev. F. W. Parries, of the Presbyterian Church, was the officiating clergyman. Potted plants, cut flowers and vines formed the decoration of the parlor, where the wedding took place, the young couple standing under a wedding veil of white flowers during the ceremony.

Miss Sallie Hallowell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore white net over green tulle. The bridesmaids, who were white silk princess dresses and carried bouquets of white gladioli, were Misses Katherine Johnson, of Greensboro, N. C.; Miss Elizabeth Parker, of Newberry, N. C.; and Miss Mabel Stanley, of Goldsboro. Mr. Robert McClung Byers, of Bedford City, Va., brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The groomsmen were Messrs. O. H. Salyman, of Greensboro, N. C.; and Charles W. Byers, of Fort Defiance, Va.

The bride wore an exquisite creation of white silk over tulle, and carried three roses. Her tulle veil was caught with a beautiful pearl and diamond brooch, the groom's gift.

The bride party and a few friends were entertained Tuesday evening in the bride's home.
